	Notes
Welcome & Team Builder Patricia Enriquez, DSIC Chair	Candy Love Team Builder – based on the candy you picked; you then shared a fun fact from the provided list.
Instructional Handbook Katie Marchena, Exec Dir of Teaching &amp; Learning	Dr. Mossige shared a message of thanks to open the meeting. She thanked everyone for the work we do as educators and the impact that we have on the lives of our students. Mrs. Marchena began with a thank you for serving this year and providing feedback on lesson planning. Drafts of the Instructional Handbook were shared with all participants. The instructional handbook will set a minimum standard for all campuses in the district. A discussion occurred between what is required and what is optional. If it is written in the handbook, it is required however a campus principal can add additional expectations per campus. Feedback matters and it was asked to think from a high level what feedback is important to share?

	Feedback was provided after time for review and discussion by the group. Are some of pieces out of order and need to be rearranged? – Possibly and the pieces that could be moved were discussed. Can our teachers on campus get access to the draft? – The draft is not open for public feedback yet and a roll out will occur in stages. The draft can be discussed with teams however it is not finalized yet. Dr. Mossige shared about the “Why” we are planning and preparing all these documents. It was powerful to hear again just how diverse our district is and the planning it takes to provide equity for all our campuses with so much unique diversity.
